planning

Development and master planning encompasses a wide range of activities. They range from creating simple port or shipyard layouts to examining the complex interaction of national and international economics, and the effects these have on the demand for facilities. Planning from Royal Haskoning, through Posford Haskoning Ltd., and Haskoning Nederland B.V., enables our clients to exploit the maximum potential of their facility with confidence. Our maritime development planners, economists and transport and shipping specialists focus on preparing robust trade forecasts, expansion plans, facilities and services that meet the stakeholders' objectives.

Gaining planning approval and completing an environmental assessment is critical in any development initiative. Our urban and regional planning specialists and environmental scientists are fully familiar with national and international planning and environmental assessment requirements, including those of the international funding agencies.

Our combined expertise is targeted towards balancing development with conservation, so that projects can be realised in the most sustainable manner possible.

A port's success largely depends on the compatibility between its institutional arrangements, the business drivers and its local environment. Changing shipping patterns, increasing trade volumes and factors such as the increasing importance of containerisation have changed the business environment for many ports. Our experts provide services to both public and private parties, including the identification of a preferred ownership strategy and the formulation of strategic plans. We also advise on organisational reforms, port marketing and financial administration, deliver training programmes and assist on human resource planning.

Through detailed evaluation we aim to reduce the risk of development. Our philosophy in making recommendations is based on 'what would WE do under the specific circumstances identified'.

We can also investigate opportunities for risk sharing through equity participation, or help to arrange project finance through our local, regional and international networks. Our specialists can advise on the latest grant and funding opportunities as well as which banks or institutions might be willing to become involved in maritime development.
